Have You Seen the New Mattings?

The response to the announcement of the first matting importations has been greater than we anticipated, the past three days having witnessed unusual buying in the new lines. The 80,000 yards included in the first importation comprise more than 200 styles and patterns, many of them novelties never before made and all bright and new designs. The special pricing to open the season begins at 73/4c. per yard.

SEPARATE BATHS FOR LADIES.

The best preventive of colds is the Turkish Bath. One of the principal reasons why we take cold so easily is because the skin is inactive, and in consequence the system becomes clouged with disease-breeding matter. If the Baths were more generally resorted to there would be less suffering and sickness and a longer life and a happier one. A trial will convince you.

A cablegram received in this city last night announced the marriage at Genoa, Italy, of Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett to Mr. Stephen Townesend, F. R. C. S., of the Inner Temple and Continental Club, London. Mrs. Burnett lately sailed for Genoa. Upon her arrival she was met by Mr. Townesend, and the marriage was quietly celebrated. Mr. Townesend is the son of the late Rev. George Taylor Townesend of St. Michael's, and by profession is a surgeon, but after having obtained eminence in his calling relinquished it for the stage. He first met Mrs. Burnett through mutual friends, and was engaged by her as a secretary. Later they collaborated in the dramatization of one of Mrs. Burnett's books. The honeymoon will be spent on the Riviera, and later Mr. and Mrs. Townesend will go to the latter's home, Maytham Hall, Kent, England.

DISCUSSION OF LIBRARIES.

Program Observed at Monthly Meet-ing of Washington Association. The program at the regular monthly meeting of the Library Association last evening at the Columbian University was of special interest. An address was made by Dr. Edward J. Farquhar of the Patent Office Library on some phases of library work, which was based mainly on the perwork, which was based mainly on the personal experience of the speaker. One of the factors, he thought, in making a library useful was a good memory on the part of the librarian, so that he could have at his command a large part of the contents of the library. In the discussion which followed it was pointed out that in these days the demand for the catalogue is decreasing, while that for the trained library assistant is increasing. Attention was also called to the relation of the public to the library, and the question was raised whether people who did not know what they wanted, or who merely wanted to make use of the brains and time of the librarian to turn out articles which they could sell, are entitled to the attention which they receive at the hands of librarians.

An account was given by Mr. Allen B. Slauson, superintendent of the periodical department, Library of Congress, of the room in that department, which has been recently opened. He stated that it was the largest in the world, and that, with the present facilities, papers representing every state and territory in the Union were now on file there. In spite of this large number, there were represented in this room only about one-third of the newspapers that were received by the library.

Mr. Charles Martel also made an address on library work, which closed in an interesting fashion the formal program of the evening. sonal experience of the speaker. One of the Pleads Guilty to Both Charges.

William S. Jenkins, who was arrested on charge of receiving stolen goods after he was acquitted of the allegation of having stolen them, was arraigned in the Police stolen them, was arraigned in the Police Court today. There were two charges against him. In one case it was alleged he received articles of jewelry which had been taken from the house of Mr. Harry Rothschilds, while the other information alleged that he received property taken from the house of Mr. William Rockwood.

Jenkins pleaded guilty to both charges, and was fined $40 or four months in jail.

Death of Mrs. Dole. Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon Dole, widow of Judge William P. Dole, commissioner of Indian affairs under President Lincoln, died yesterday at her residence, 1014 14th street. The deceased was in her seventy-fourth year. No children of the couple survive, but the nearest relatives, two nephews, who reside in Wisconsin, have been notified and are on their way to Washington. Until they arrive no arrangements for the funeral will be made.

a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and Indi-gestion. Many such pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbinged, especially in mentiones.

This fear of being bumbugged can be carried too far, so far, in fact, that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims made of a preparation so reliable and universally used as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablers.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablers are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine, no secret is made of their ingredicuts, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure asepte pepsin, the digestive reids, Golden Seal, blaquith, hydrastis and nux. They are not cathartic, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food caten thoroughly before it has time to ferment, our and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.
